THE G. A. R. MEET.

A Washington Delegate in Evidence and Strikes at the Color Line—Echoes of the Meeting.

Mrs. Julia Mason Layton has returned from Chicago where she was in attendance at the 17th national convention of the W. K. C. auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic. She reports a pleasant trip throughout. She was the guest of her adopted brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Taylor and Captain Hunt and wife. Captain Hunt is of the famous 8th Illinois Volunteers who did such excellent service in Cuba in the Spanish-American War.

On her way home she stopped over in Cincinnati with Dr. Louis Cornish and wife in their cosy little home. They are as comfortably quartered as though they had been housekeeping eight years instead of eight months. A handsome buggy and horse completes the outfit.

The W. R. C's of St. Paul and Minneapolis sent and immense and very handsome flag to be presented to the national president and she in turn presented it to the Atlanta University that it may float every day over the race one-third as great in numbers as ours, who have stood as much as we have for you and yours from 1865 till now and have not struck back" and so point after point was taken up and when she had finished, the resolution was lost and in its stead came "If any white woman or corps wishes to be set apart from the colored corps, they may do so through the proper channel and if a colored corps wishes they same it may." This was unanimously carried.

The next convention will be held in Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Layton reports Lawyers Carlisle Mason and Albert George of our city doing a thriving business. Mr. Albertus Brown also of our city is making his mark as stenographer to National Republican Committee.

Prof. Robert H. Terrell has been invited by the Republican State Central Committee of Maryland to deliver a number of speeches in that state. He was especially invited to accompany Congressman Pierre of the Sixth District Hon. A. M. Gould, Assistant U. S. District Attorney.

sons and daughters of the black soldiers Mrs. Layton in the name of the ten millions of her race thanked these patriotic women of the twin cities and assured them that her race was as loyal today to all that was just and right as they were on the field from 1861 to 1865 etc. The audience was moved to tears at the close of the speech of about ten minutes.

Among the many resolutions and able decisions made by this grand body of nearly 150,000 women represented in convention by about 800 delegates and only 13 were colored—the one that brought about the greatest discussion was, the colored corps belonging to the Departments of Maryland and Kentucky be set apart to themselves. This resolution was supported by women from Massachusetts, Connecticut, N. Dakota and Ohio, but strongly opposed by Mrs. Steinsmeier of St. Louis Missouri, a wealthy German woman, but true as steel. The officers of the Department of Maryland and our own Mrs. Layton, the only colored delegate who said a word. Mrs. Layton spoke for about 25 minutes and refuted every plea made by the opposition and gave practical illustration to prove the same. For instance, one said the colored people were happier by being apart. Mrs. Layton said, "you mean you are happier by their being apart. Take a man who has been reared in dirt, always lived in dirt, he knows nothing else. Take him out of that, clean him off, put him in a clean place and very soon he will want to insult any one who says he came from the other home. The same is true of our women who have never known, never been allowed by your loyal vote to be anything but set apart and they seem happy, etc. Then as a race, we endeavor to adapt ourselves to our surroundings.
